HARRIER TEAM LEAVES FOR R.M.C. TO-DAY

To Compete in Intercollegiate Race To-morrow

AT KINGSTON

Queen's, Toronto, and R.M.C. Also Entered

The McGill Harrier Team leaves for Kingston this morning, where the intercollegiate harrier competition will be held over the Royal Military College course. Representatives from Toronto, Queen's and R. M. C. and McGill will compete in the run, which takes place tomorrow morning. The Montreal men will in all probability return with the rosters from the Queen's football match on Saturday night.

Six McGill runners will make the trip, Brain, Goforth, Airey, Rubin, Boness and Clement, only the first two have competed in Intercollegiate Harrier meets before, but the others are all well-known in track circles. Brain, who is manager this year, has regularly entered in the three mile event. In the Harrier contest last year he gained fifth place being beaten by his team mate, Wiggins, and three Toronto men, Goforth, running for the first time under the Red and White but has been first man in on two occasions, when wearing Varsity colours. He is also Intercollegiate three mile champion. Rubin, one mile winner for the past two seasons, is new to the long-distance game, but he finished second in the college race last week. Airey, who was fourth in the same event, has previously confined himself to such distances as the half-mile. However the longer distance does not seem to bother him. Clement who missed making the team last autumn by a narrow margin has been working hard this year, being McGill second miler in Kingston a few weeks ago, while Boness another newcomer to the team, has been practising hard all month.

The R. M. C. course is slightly slightly hilly, but still flatter than that on the mountain, over which the Red-and-White team has trained. This should be of slight advantage to McGill but a small handicap to the present champions, Toronto, where the route is rather flat. The distances of all three are roughly equal.

The teams will familiarize themselves with the route this afternoon, so that there will be little trouble in following it during tomorrow's race. The McGill men did nothing yesterday, preferring to rest after the hard training of the early part of the week. On Wednesday, several followed the short course, while others were content with a jog around the track. The six are in perfect condition, and feel confident that whoever passes them in Kingston will have to run.

There has been an inexplicable scarcity of men practising during the last few days. Outside of the team, not more than six runners were out Wednesday, and few more put in an appearance yesterday. With at least ten men needed for the Dunlop Road race on the 23rd of November, there will be ample opportunity for new men to show their ability, but very few are turning out.

BOXERS START SERIOUS TRAINING FOR TEAM

There was a large turn-out yesterday at five o'clock to the boxing club, when Ernie Robinson, who is managing the club gave a practical demonstration of the art of self defence. The men were very much in earnest, and after the demonstration the pugilists were put through head exercises and shadow boxing by the manager, in an endeavour to have instilled some of the many points and rules of the boxing game. At the end Mr. Robinson showed the men how to develop their muscles by means of exercises.

The next meeting of the club will be announced in the Daily. The club is anxious to build up its memberships and all those interested in the "noble and manly art of self-defence" will have ample opportunity to learn in the course of this year.

ROB. PARKER WINNER OF SWEEPSTAKE

Wins R.R. Ticket To Kingston

CAFETERIA BUSY

Competition and Jazz Tea Draw Big Crowds

At exactly eleven o'clock last night Ted Newton, President of the Union drew a ticket from the box in the cafeteria, to find the winner of the cafeteria sweepstake. Amid hushed excitement he scanned the ticket and announced "Robert Parker Com. 25." This was followed by shouts of approval from the friends of the fortunate student and grunts of disappointment from those who had hopes of winning free trip to Kingston.

During the whole day, the Union cafeteria and precincts presented a busy scene. Long lines of men were seen waiting to appease their hunger and incidentally to obtain a free ticket to Kingston. When interviewed at a late hour last night Pierre and his staff presented tired but happy band; for they were sure that it had been a record day for the cafeteria. Not only were the crowds attracted by that coveted trip to Kingston but also by the delicious strains of Cliff Menzies' Collegians. By the hour scheduled for the jazz tea a large number of students had gathered anxious to get their money's worth.

Others could be seen loudly proclaiming that they were positive they were going to win that ticket, while (Continued on Page Two)

S.C.A. CLUB-ROOM TO BE DEDICATED

To Be Opened On Sunday Afternoon

The new S. C. A. Club room is being dedicated with the opening meeting on Sunday afternoon, and one of the long felt needs of students, being connected with this group, is being realized. The object of this improvement is that there will be a comfortable and attractive reading and study room fitted with lounge furniture reading tables and lamps where people may drop in at any time to spend spare minutes well.

This room will be the centre of all S. C. A. activity and the rendezvous of all people, men women who are interested in its work. It will be open and accessible all the time. The only entrance will be interest in the things for which it stands.

One main feature of the room is the library of recent books on topics of paramount interest in modern life. This is made possible by travelling trunks of books which rest in local units of the Student Movement for period of weeks. A glance at the list of titles is stimulating itself. Some well known and outstanding ones, taken at random are: "The Ethics of Capitalism" by Judson Rosebush "The Community" by E. C. Linderman "Is Christian Experience an Illusion" by H. Balmforth. "Medical Practice in Africa and the East" by Stephen Fagett. "The Coming of Coal" by Robert W. Bruere "Progress in Religion" by T. R. Glover, which is a scholarly survey of the development of the idea of religion up to the Christian era. "A Programme for the Revolution" by an Anglican Priest in China is surprising.

Other authors whose names are well known are here represented by their newest works. Dr. L. P. Jacks one of McGill's latest honorary graduates has "Religious Perplexities" and "A Living Universe". The much slandered Harry Emerson Fosdick finds a place for his The gloomy Dean's Outspoken Essays in two volumes are much spoken of while Herbert Gray's Christian Adventure and Men, Women, and God are not less known.

Two new study courses. Economic problems and the Christian Ideal and Racial Relations and the Christian Ideal are also found.

At the meeting on Sunday some of these are to be reviewed and they may be borrowed or bought under an easy arrangement.

Such an asset may prove of great value to the home of the S. C. A. in McGill.

CHARITY DRIVE STARTS TO-DAY

Will Continue Throughout Next Week

The federal Charities drive begins officially to-day and will continue till the end of next week. The work this year has been placed in the hands of the presidents of the various years throughout the university. These in most cases have divided up their classes into sections and appointed sub-captains to help them in the canvassing in this way every man in the university will be reached and given a chance to contribute to this worthy cause. Every person who contributes will be given a button which he is asked to wear and which shows that he is a supporter of the campaign.

The Federation movement started in Montreal two years ago and has proved itself a remarkable success. Up to this time each of the several charities that go to make up the Federation was dependent on its own resources to try and raise the funds that were necessary to carry on its particular activities. In this way there was a great deal of overlapping and some of these worthy societies languished from lack of financial support.

People were constantly being asked for donations and the frequent calls began to tire even the most cheerful giver. Concerts, bazzars and many forms of activities were resorted to in order to raise funds. Now under the Federation idea all that is done away with as far as the thirty charities and philanthropic organizations that compose the federation is concerned. A budget is drawn up and a certain specified sum set aside for each of the branches. An organized campaign goes on once during the year and puts the facts of the case before the public.

DR. MEAKINS TO ADDRESS MEDICALS

Will Speak on "The Future in Medicine"

Prof. J. C. Meakins, newly appointed professor and director of the department of medicine, will address the Medical Undergraduate Society on the subject Future in Medicine.

JOE CAMERON

Right half of the senior squad, a fast and tricky ball-carrier

This will be the second of the regular fortnightly meetings of the Society and will be held in the New Medical Building at 8.00 p. m. on Monday, Nov. 3rd.

Dr. Meakins is a graduate of McGill, class 1904, has spent several years at Edinburgh, and was sent by that university to do research work in Peru. He has returned to Montreal this year to take the position of professor of medicine at the university and director of the new medical clinic being established at the Royal Victoria Hospital. His address on what the future holds in medicine should prove of the greatest interest to every embryo doctor. The men of

THE KINGSTON TRIP
Whether a special train will carry the McGill rooters and the band to Queen's depend on the sale of train tickets to-day. It remains for a few, who may yet be undecided, to promptly decide in favour of making the journey. The hundred mark is not far off. There are approximately fifteen tickets at the Union which, if sold, will ensure that all who travel to Kingston will go en masse.
Students at the Limestone City are looking forward to a record migration from Montreal to see a rugby battle which, according to all predictions, will be the most strenuous and exciting in the intercollegiate series this year.

COL. BUCHAN WILL SPEAK ON MONDAY

Famous Author to Speak in Ballroom at 8:30
CANADIAN CLUB

President of Oxford Union—Wrote History of Great War

Col. John Buchan, the famous author and lecturer, is speaking Monday evening at 8.30 in the Ball-room of the Union. Col. Buchan's just now visiting Canada on a lecture tour sponsored by the National Council of Education, and will speak on Monday under the auspices of the McGill Canadian Club and the Young Mens Canadian Club of Montreal.

John Buchan was born on the Scottish border, the son of a minister, and first attended Glasgow University. From there he proceeded to Oxford, where his versatile talents soon began to display themselves. In 1898 he was awarded the honours in the Stenhouse historical essay competition. Next year he captured the Newdigate prize for poetry, and in the following year was awarded both first class Lit. Hum. and became president of the famous Oxford Union, noted for its debaters.

After leaving Oxford, Mr. Buchan commenced his career as barrister of the Middle Temple and in the same year was appointed private secretary to Lord Milner, Lord High Commissioner for South Africa. In Africa he gathered much of his material for future books. During the war years he served on the Headquarters staff of the British Army in France, and became temporary Lieutenant-Colonel, an officer of the Crown of Belgium and the Crown of Italy. Later he was Director of Information under the Prime Minister.

Always a prolific writer, books issuing from his pen regularly since his university days, he has written five works since 1920, including Nelson's History of the Great War, which can be found in the McGill Library in twenty-four volumes. His writings cover the fields of history, economics, poetry, and novels. Some of his best known are his History of the Great War; Poems Scotch and English; Peter John; and Greenmantle.

In the intervals of his labours, Col. Buchan is an ardent fisherman, deer-stalker, and mountaineer. It is evident that it would be hard to find a man with broader interests than Col. Buchan. He ranges from fishing to taxation; from poetry to mountain climbing. He is a member of both the Alpine Club, and the Athenaeum, clubs differing widely in their interests. When he is not travelling he lives in London, or in his country house Blenheim Manor, Oxford.

No fee is exacted, and the ladies are as welcome as the gentlemen.

Weak Eyes—I want a pair of strong spectacles. I've just had a very painful experience that I don't want to repeat.

Opticist—Did you take a stranger for an acquaintance?

the upper years who have had the good fortune of hearing Dr. Meakins will need no urging to be present, while those of the lower years should not miss this opportunity of hearing a discourse on a subject which is uppermost in the mind of each medical student.

Music and refreshments will complete the programme for the evening.

FACULTY VISITED LOCAL HARBOUR

Students to Pay Visit Next Week

Sir Arthur Currie and members of the faculty were guests of Dr. McDougald of the harbour Commission at the third official inspection of the harbour held this year Wednesday afternoon. The party was also entertained at luncheon.

The inspection was one of the most complete in a long record of inspections. Not a member of the party deserted and an exhaustive study was made of local conditions.

In thanking Dr. McDougald for the opportunity of viewing the harbor, Sir Arthur Currie pointed out that McGill and the harbor were linked up owing to the fact that Dr. Milton Hersey, a member of the commission was a McGill graduate and Dr. McDougald had been a student at the institution. For this reason they had

SENIOR TEAM READY FOR ENCOUNTER

Men Leave To-night For Kingston

FULL STRENGTH

Plays Were Going Good at Yesterday's Practice At Stadium

Yesterday the senior rugby team held its last real work-out before it goes into action against the tri-colour to-morrow. A light signal practice is scheduled for this afternoon and the men leave to-night for the Presbyterian stronghold.

The Red and White were going good in their practice yesterday. The plays went smoothly and with lots of snap and everybody is full of confidence as to the result of the encounter in Kingston. After the signals had been run over the men spent some time getting down under Hughes' punts and then held a good scrimmage practice. Nobody was hurt and it is certain that all regulars will start against the tri-colour.

Captain Little will be at outside. During some of the scrimmages he was taken out and his place filled by Boyd Miller who will likely go to Kingston as a sub. Yesterday Manson came back to his old place at right inside, which Spears has filled during "Bozons" absence. Philpotts is almost certain to be right end and he and "Bones" can be depended upon to stop the famous Leadley-Batstone attack as they did last week. Ney Gordon is expected to start as flying wing, and no changes should be made in the regular backfield. Hughes, Hanna and Cameron. Blair will be engineering the plays at quarter with Alex Moore ahead of him at snap. Boucher, "Bob" McCombe and "Johnny" McCombe are in good shape and will be on the Red and White line which has proved itself able to more than hold its own with that of the tri-colour.

Line-work is the strong department of the McGill squad and it has been stressed particularly by coach Shaughnessy during the last few work-outs. The way the plays have been going make it seem certain that the superiority of the Red and White in line work should offset their back of effective end runs and open plays.

The team is out for score "and stands an excellent chance of winning. "The old fight is there just the same as ever", as an observer put it last night.

A good number of McGill rooters are making the trip although it is still doubtful whether a special train will be used. Many are going to Kingston by auto. Among those it is reported will be some men from the dance at Macdonald, arrayed in their tuxes, with no chance nor time to change their raiment but determined to get through to the encounter at the Richardson Stadium to-morrow afternoon.

ern girl knows life, she discusses with perfect sang froid and in the presence of young men, such hitherto about topics as love and marriage.

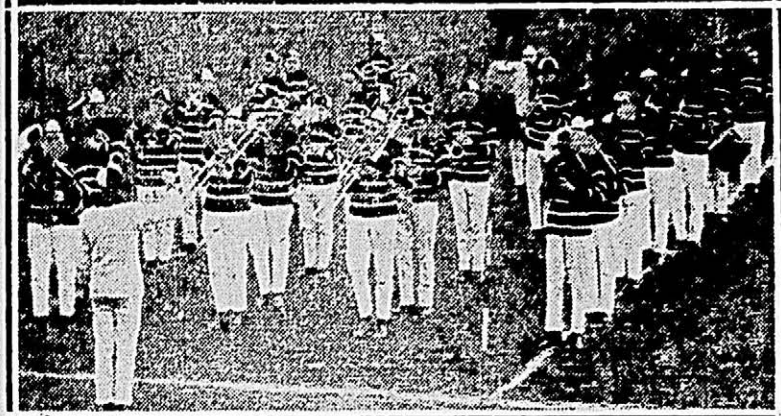

Ten or fifteen years ago there was a feminist movement whose main endeavor was to gain equality for men and women. Now this has comparatively died out, to-day the women in France have no vote, not because they cannot have it but because they are not interested in politics, they leave the affairs of state to the men.

After M. de Verneuil had concluded his remarks Miss K. Perrin and Miss B. Frey played a medley of French-Canadian airs. Miss L. Desbarats then announced a guessing contest in which each player represented some such character as Venus Margaret Currie, Satan, Louis XIV or Kipling.

Mlle. B. Fromery has been elected Honorary President of the Societe.

McDougald, Dr. Milton Hersey, Mr. T. W. Harvie, General Manager of the Port, Dr. F. C. Harrison, Dean of Faculty of Agriculture.

On Thursday next the senior year in Commerce and Agriculture will have the pleasure of visiting and inspecting the Montreal Harbor, on the invitation of the Harbour Commissioners. The party will be accommodated on the SS. Hugh Allan which will take it to the various points of interest. The trip should be a very pleaele hopes to find amongst the first two years, men to carry on its work, and this is one of the means afforded of bringing out their latent ability. For although the debate itself is limited to the hour, all will have an opportunity of participating in the discussion which will follow.

The subject itself is one of vital concern in Jewish everyday life. It is both pertinent and timely in view of the attitude taken in some American colleges towards Jewish culture. It affords, too, an interesting field of study. Culture will be interpreted to mean "the sum total of all intellectual and artistic activity of a people". It is expected that, during the debate and in the discussion afterwards, many new opinions will be advanced and much new light thrown on the subject.

The manner of decision is not yet certain. In all probability, both the method of having judges and the Oxford way of letting the audience decide, will be used.

The brothers, Moe and Sidney Fels will provide the musical part of the programme.

The meeting, which will be held in the hall-room of the McGill Union is scheduled to commence at three o'clock. The chairman has emphasized the importance of being on time.

EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN IN FRANCE

M. de Veineuil Addresses the Societe Francaise

The flapper in France was the subject of an interesting talk by M. de Verneuil, French Consul and famous author, at the initial meeting of the Societe Francaise yesterday.

M. de Verneuil showed what an independent and responsible young person the modern French girl is in comparison with the maiden of twenty-five years ago. He explained that this great change is due primarily to the war—the Saxon and American influence, and also to the example set by the older sisters who became nurses during the war and thus had greater freedom and responsibility.

Before the war French girls never went out alone, there was very little intercourse between the sexes except perhaps at dances. Again girls did not work but this has all changed since the war and to-day girls work in offices, shops, banks etc. Because of this new found freedom the mod-sant as well as instructive for the local port is one of the best in the world, especially with regard to grain handling.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1924.

PERSONAL CONTACT

To-morrow Queen's University will be at home to McGill's seion football team. McGill is determined to give the Dominion Champions a great battle. Last week's game showed that the teams were not equally matched which was proved by the scoring of a touchdown against a line which has held against the best in the dominion for two years and whose goal line has been crossed only twice in that time. We predict a great struggle and give our good wishes to the men who will represent both this university and our sister university at Kingston.

There is another phase of intercollegiate relations which has not been stressed very much in the past. That is personal contact. True, our teams have been competing in Kingston for years in various branches of athletic activity; but to the average student Queen's University is between here and Toronto, he does not pass through it on the main line and hence knows little about it. As a consequence Kingston is not as well known as Toronto. To-morrow will offer a splendid opportunity to see Kingston and Queen's at their best.

Montreal, because of its size, is a quite different situation for a university than is a small city. McGill, although important in the cultural and athletic life of this city, does not dominate it to the extent that it would if moved bodily to a smaller town. In Kingston to-morrow, most other activities will be temporarily at a standstill while the citizens and students focus their attention on the one question of paramount interest, the football game.

The Students' Council is making arrangements to run a special train to Kingston to-morrow morning. Several members together with the Rooters band and a large number of rooters will travel on this train. Many classes have already pooled their resources to send representatives. Tickets are still available at the Union at the reduced rate of nine dollars and twenty cents. We hope that even more than have already signified their attention will get their tickets and join this pilgrimage to cheer the fortunes of the Red and White in to-morrow's contest.

BE AN ARDENT WORKER IN THE RANKS OF A WORTHY CAUSE.

You say that you hesitate when you are asked to join hands in a good cause because you cannot be ukewarm and you are afraid of where your enthusiasm might lead you.

All right to be conservative, but why withhold support just because you fear you might do too much in the interests of the worthy cause? All worthy causes need ardent helpers.

But is that the real reason you are so conservative in your attitude toward these civic or benevolent movements when it comes to active work? Isn't it that you would like to lead and to follow irks you?

Are you afraid that you may seem to usurp another's authority on account of your naturally dominant attitude in whatever work you undertake?

Then it is time for you to cultivate more of the "watchful waiting" spirit, a little self-discipline being r one.

Watch the leader, show you are ready for help, keep your eyes and your ears open and fill in where it is needed.

It sometimes takes more courage to fit in the tracks to be the tip-procedure than it does to be the tip-top leader.

Cultivate the spirit of service, forgetfulness of self, and be at the right hand of every good movement if you can.—Houson Chronicle.

The October number of "The Dublin Magazine," a prominent literary review published in Dublin, Ireland, has given the skeptics quite a jolt. Many students have been looking upon "The Texas Review" as just an ordinary literary review, but according to "The Dublin Magazine," "It is a well produced scholarly review, issued quarterly at the University of Texas, comparing favorably with the higher class reviews of Britain or Comparative Literature in the University of Texas. The article deals with Byron's influence upon nine-Americans." The Dublin Magazine continues, "Not a word in it about 'bucking bronks' and cowboys might not in the Review deals with 'The Influence of Byron' by Professor H. M. Jones, head of the Department of twentieth century literature."

Professor R. A. Law of the English Department stated that this was the first time the Texas Review had received any notice at the hands of the Dublin publication and there was no particular friendship that would influence the magazine in giving the Texas Review this praise. "This shows," stated Dr. Law, "that the Texas Review is appreciated."

The following men are requested to turn out to-day in the attic of the Union for practice:—

3 p.m. to 4 p.m.

McKenzie, Menzies, Ring.

4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Rosenbloom.

5 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Dohridge, Gillotz, Gray, Kirby, Ross, Smilovitz.

This is only a temporary schedule. There will be no practice this Saturday.

EXCURSION TO LAKSIDE

The party will meet on Saturday at 1:15 p.m. at Track No. 5 of C.P.R. Windsor St. Station in charge of Alan MacNaughton, Walnut 1567, and J. Howie, Walnut 0438.

SOCCER

The team that will play the Nomads on Saturday, November 1, will be selected from the following men: Plant, Easterbrook, Cave, Stephenson, Helwig, Archdale, Giovando, Holand, Kelland, Scott, Seaton, Moffatt, Baileny, Henry and Shippam. These men are asked to be out to a practice on the campus this afternoon at 4 o'clock so that a final practice may be put in, as the team has not had much play this week, and needs to supply this deficiency. Each man must be in soccer togs.

ARTS RUGBY

There will be a practice to-day at 4 p.m. on the Campus. As this is the only practice before the game on Monday with Medicine, it is hoped every man will turn out in uniform so a good practice may be had.

ROWING CLUB WILL MAKE TRIP TO-DAY

Will Travel to Lakeside to Visit Club-House

Arrangements for the trip of the McGill Rowing Club to Lakeside to visit the club-house there, are all complete and a large number of members and other are expected to make the trip. All will assemble today at 1:15 p. m. at track No 6 of the C. P. R. Windsor Street Station.
When the number going will be counted and tickets will be purchased at a reduced rate. It is therefore necessary that everyone be at the station at the appointed time, for the train leaves at 1:30 and those not there by 1:15 will be obliged to pay the regular fare.

All members both old and new are urged to go, as it is well worth the trip to see the club property.

A couple of canoes will be available and about an hour will be spent on the water. The party is scheduled to return by the 4.30 p. m. train, but if the members wish it, the return will be made on a later train.

TACTICAL SCHEME FOR NOVEM-BER FIRST

General Situation.
The Red and Blue Forces are at War.

A Red Force was defeated on October 31st by a Blue Force in the vicinity of Sault au Recollet and Malsonneuve. The defeated force has evacuated Montreal and is retiring in parallel columns with the intention of making a stand on the general line Vaudreuil-Saraguayville, which is being fortified by fresh Red forces that have been pushed eastward over the bridge at Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

The Red rear-guards are being pressed by the advance guards of the Blue Forces which are advancing south-westward on a wide front, covering the entire breadth of Montreal Island, and it is of the utmost importance that the Red Forces should delay the Blue as long as possible in order to be able to consolidate their main position. The Blue advance-guards must destroy the Red rear-guards as rapidly as possible, so that the Red army may be attacked before it has had time to consolidate this position.

The McGill Bn. C. O. T. C. is moving on the front of the left centre of the Red Forces. It is advancing in a south-western direction from McGill University, its line of advance
taking in Westmount.

Among the troops covering the withdrawal is a section of machine guns, who have orders to hold the summit of Westmount to the last.

Narrative.

By 15.00 hours, November 1st., the rear-guard have reached West-mount. This rear-guard has been pressed so hotly that it has to take up its position west of the junction of Belvedere and Summit Aves.

By 15.30 hours the scouts of the McGill Battalion Advance-guard reach the junction of Belvedere and Summit Aves. The O. C. Advance-guard attacks the enemy as soon as he gets in touch with them, sending back information to the O. C. McGill Battalion.

As it is known that the resistance to be met with is hastily prepared, the attack of the advance-guard must be carried forward on the initiative of the O. C. Advance-guard with his subordinates, relying on ground cover and mutual fire to cover forward movements. He must clear the way without having to wait for artillery to help him.

Detail.

O. C. Red Rear Guard: Lieut. C. L.
Ransom.

O. C. Blue Advance Guard: Lieut.
H. Pennell.

Lieut. Kingston in command of van-guard.

Distinguishing Marks.

All ranks of the Red Rear Guard will wear white handkerchiefs tied round both arms above the elbow.
Umprising, etc.

When umpires detect men of the Blue Advance Guard exposing themselves to fire, and decide that they are casualties, these men will report the O. C. Advance Guard, who will use them to reinforce the Main Guard.

Why He Changed Name
Sam was the new office boy in the Business Girl's office. When he was hired she asked him if his whole name were not Samuel, but like Topsy he claimed he was "Just Sam." Several weeks went by. Sam was a very small boy for his age and not at all strong for his size. As there were several men in the office Sam had very little heavy work to do, and it was understood in the office that the heavy work would have to be done by some one hustlier than Sam.

One day Sam confided to the Business Girl that he had changed his name to Sam—he said his name had been much worse than that. When the Business Girl asked what his name had been originally he replied, modestly and rather sheepishly, "Samson!"—
New York Sun.

The boy stood on the hall-room floor,
His head was in a whirl,
His mouth was full of hairpins,
And his arms were full of girl.
"I have a good notion to scratch your eyes out."
"If you do I will never look at you again."

2,000 fresh new English Broadcloth Shirts go on sale to-day, to-morrow, and Saturday at an extraordinary saving to you for goods of such high repute.

A fortunate purchase enables us to make this offer. The merits of English Broadcloth are well-known, but when we add the finest workmanship and superior design, the completed shirt represents the best that money and skill can produce.

The lot includes all the popular plain shades—sky-blue, champagne, mauve, grey and white. Each shirt is made coat style with five buttons, and the cuff vents button as in custom shirts. The separate soft collar is smart in style and perfect fitting.

This is indeed a remarkable shirt selling occasion and will be long remembered by those who profit by it.

TEAMS OF EIGHT

McGill Out to Retain Trophy Won Last YearThe Intercollegiate Rifle Shoot for which the members of the McGill Association have been diligently preparing themselves, takes place next Sunday at the Pointe-aux-Trembles ranges. As usual there will be an early start from Strathcona Hall, the exact hour of which will be announced in tomorrow's Daily.In its activities this year the club has been very successful. Every Sunday there has been a large turnout of men. The progress made by some of the newer hands has been really remarkable.Every available man is needed however, and every man will be given a fair chance. All the members shoot at the distances, 200, 500, 600 yards.
The eight riflemen making the highest totals will hand in their scores to the official in charge, as members of the 1924 team. The newcomers have thus equal opportunities with the more experienced students and several of them will undoubtedly make the eight.Aperture sights are permitted and should prove of considerable worth.
It has been suggested that a competition for members of the C. O. T.
C. will be staged in conjunction with the Intercollegiate.The trophy, donated by the government of Canada for competition among the different Canadian Universities, is one of the finest of the many on show in the Union Lounge Room. It came to McGill last year from the University of Manitoba, only after a stiff battle. A few members of last season's crack team are still available.It will be no small job to keep the big cup in Montreal, as the opposition is very strong. However, such men as Hunter, Emmons and Henry can always be relied upon to keep the bull eye in constant need of repair, add to these the others who have shown that they have a clear eye and a steady hand and it is certain that the team which represents the university on Sunday, the 2nd, will be no mean aggregation.

The Editor, McGill Daily:

Dear Sir:

Through the medium of your columns, I would like to tender my congratulations to Mr. R. C. Brown on the result of the Union House committee elections.I would also like to take this opportunity of thanking my supporters:Thanking you for your valuable

The Editor, McGill Daily:

Dear Sir:

Permit me, through the medium of your paper to express, to those who supported me Wednesday in the Union House committee elections, my deep gratitude. May I also publicly express my sincere thanks for the effort put forth by the members of my campaign committee and the men who so capably conducted the elections.The undergraduates of the Faculty of Arts have my assurance that my whole effort shall be directed to aid the formation of the most harmonious and efficient committee in the history of the Union House.Thanking you, Sir, for your valuable space, I am

Yours truly

LACROSSE MATCH
RESULTS IN DRAWIt was thought that the lacrosse season had definitely ended but the continuance of the fine weather brought out the M. S. P. E. players when the Juniors held the Seniors to a 1-1 score yesterday at the Molson's Stadium.From the face-off to the end of the first period the play was well evenly divided and although both teams played hard there was really nothing spectacular about the game.

DECISIVE VICTORY

Victor's Team Almost Com-

feat to the Arts-Commerce aggregation yesterday afternoon to the tune of 7-0. With the victory went the inter-faculty soccer championship.Arts-Comm., last year's champions at no time had a look-in on the game and had their hands full trying to keep the score down. The result did not come as a surprise, as eight of the Science men are on the first eleven and besides this, Easterbrook Arts' are gular goal-keeper was taken sick during the day and was prevented from playing. Kellam, a forward, tried his hand attending the goals and despite the rather large score, made a very creditable showing and stopped many shots that looked like sure markers.But no credit should be taken away from the Science team as they fully deserved their victory and fought every inch of the way right up to the final whistle.Bellony, Bickford and "Clem" Anson starred for the victors while Seaton and Giovando win outstanding for the losers.

FINE FOILS PRACTICE
BY FIFTY FENCERSThe Strathcona Hall yesterday evening was the scene of a good practice
by the members of the McGill Fencing Club. From present prospects, the Club seems destined to have an fine year. So far, over fifty members have been enrolled. As yet, the club has not secured an instructor, but former members have been doing valuable work and some of the new comers are already showing very marked improvement.It is expected that by next week Prof. Raymond's services as instructor will have been secured. Prof Raymond's ability is well known to former members and many others, as for some years he has been chief instructor. The membership fees of five dollars are now due, and the executive will be glad to receive them at the next practice.FIRST BASKETBALL PRACTICE NOV 3RDJudging from the interest attracted by basketball at the close of the season last year, it is expected that a large number of men will turn out for the first practice of the season on Monday Nov. 3 at 5 p. m. in the gymnasium of the High School of Montreal. McGill has captured the intercollegiate basketball championship six times in all and it is up to her to regain the honours wrestled from her by Queen's last year."All men interested in this sport and who think they have the ability to make the team are, therefore, requested to turn out on Monday, to give the season a flying start, that will lead to intercollegiate honours," said a member of the Basketball club executive.

The Co-ed's Fall Budget Planned for Her

MOLLY is going to enjoy her Thanksgiving weekend—"Oh, so much!", she enthuses. "But how could I help it, Betty dear.—A rugby game, then the tea dance at the frat. house—and as for the other dances!"
Of course it's my new Thanksgiving outfit that makes me so keen for the holiday—and equally of course I got it at the Colonial House to be certain it would be exactly and thrillingly correct and stylish.An evening dress of mingled sweetness and sophistication,
